SUBJECT: TURKMENISTAN: DURDYMURADOV RESUMES TEACHING,
CONSIDERS SUIT AGAINST GOVERNMENT

REF: A. ASHGABAT 0807

1B. ASHGABAT 0826

Classified By: Charge Sylvia Reed Curran for reasons 1.4 (b) and (d).

11. (C) Poloff spoke to Sazak Durdymuradov by phone to get an update on his situation. Durdymuradov, the RFE/RL correspondent detained in a psychiatric facility for two weeks last June (Ref A), said that he had resumed his teaching job at a school in Baharly when schools re-opened this week. He reported no problems when he returned home on July 4 after authorities released him from the hospital under international pressure (Ref B), and his position at the school was restored shortly thereafter.

12. (C) He did, however, indicate that he wanted to take the national security service to court for detaining him and imprisoning him in the psychiatric hospital without charge or due cause. He is uncertain how to advance such a case, in part because he did not receive a single document in the course of his detention that would constitute physical evidence that he was imprisoned on government authority.

13. (C) COMMENT: It appears that the government kept its promise to reinstate Durdymuradov's teaching position, which is an encouraging indication of progress. Post hopes that that there will be further progress regarding law enforcement's treatment of RFE/RL reporters in Turkmenistan.
END COMMENT.
